

Students Learned About Themselves Clip 5 Transcript

Speaker 1: From the club I've learned a lot about my history - where I come from, and I can have a better understand where I am today and people around me and how we all interact with our culture and religion through the education provided at the club.

Speaker 2: Because I'm sort of facilitating some of the meetings and doing a lot of the planning work behind it, what I learned about myself is more about how I'm able to manage a group of people and how to get the attention of people - almost in a way its like facilitating any kind of program or activity where you have to sort of speak in front of an audience and those kind of skills you really cant get anywhere else when you're just in high school. I don't know if Id say if my confidence has increased, but I'd say that my little tool belt of all of the different techniques of talking to people, I've added to it and I've developed more of an ability to talk to a group of people and manage a group of people.

Speaker 3: I've learned about myself being in Jewish cultural club, that its especially for me I found it really important to have a break in the school day where we can have some organized games, hang out, and it kind of just takes some stress off from school. I know having a bunch of courses, tests, assignments, its nice to have that fun break with a bunch of people with similar interests.
