

Students Learned About Themselves Clip 7 Transcript

Speaker 1: Something that I learned about myself being involved in these clubs is that I'm very opinionated, so we can go to Mecco (the environmental club) and lots of time we're always trying new things and advertise for the environment. There's a lot of different activities we can do and I find a lot of the time I participate with ideas and I make suggestions. So I really like discussions about coming up with something new is something that I really enjoy.

Speaker 2: I've learned that it's really easy for me to get to know new people, because usually I wouldn't walk up to someone and introduce myself. In the Christian club, it's really easy to walk up to someone and say hi, this is my name. They're really friendly, whereas most other people in the school would just be like go away. So I've learned that I'm really friendly, and I've learned that I could be able to go on stage and perform, which I never thought I could do in my life, even though I'd like to entertain later in my life.

Speaker 3: What I learned is that there are so many different things you can do that you do with other people. A lot of the time it's hard to do something by yourself but if you have a group of people to do it with it, then you can be able to help people all around the world Like with the Christian club when we raised show boxes for third world countries, we raised 70 and you can't do 70 all by yourself. I think it's really cool that we got so many people to help us, and you get to do a lot with other people with you and standing alongside you.

Speaker 4: I learned that you can connect really well with people when you're in these clubs and groups, because you learn that everyone is the same as you, and all together and everyone thinks the same as you and have the same feelings and same worries as everyone else in your school does. It's good that you everyone can connect in these groups
