

Admin_Students Learn About Themselves Clip 4 Transcript

Yeah, I mean, they find out how to be active. I mean they learn what activism is, I mean, one of the big shirts we have in our club is "Be the change." Stuff like "Being in action". All these things that are just about not just waiting for decisions to be made but being part of the decision making process, being part of the problem solving process, giving them a voice, giving them some, uh, a voice and an action that they can kind of make a change and not just sit back and say, how, you know, I'm nothing in this, I'm just one person. Well once we, once we start joining up with other members and we start, you know, finding that common voice, then that's what they learn. That's what they get out of it. They get being active and doing.