

Intro Learning About the World Beyond Transcript

When we asked students about what they learned about the world beyond, when joining these types of clubs, one of the key points that emerged was that they realized that they have a lot in common. They may have done this through either having different groups of people coming together from different clubs, say under one cultural club umbrella, or simply by bringing different cultural clubs together. But either way, they learned that they have a lot of common interests and that they are not all that different.
