

Role of Teacher Advisor Transcript

When student participants were asked about any advice they could give to teachers, they talked about the importance of having dual roles. They talked about how teachers can at first be in a more leadership role, guiding them, and making sure that they are able to conduct the club. But then they stressed the importance of the teacher letting go and allowing them to take leadership roles. So then the teacher would act more as a facilitator.